

protecting OTA broadcasting seems senseless given that 15% of population uses this while the migration is costing MUCH more in encumbrance and infrastructure. the substantive goal of DTV is crazy and teh antipiracy measure is an example of regulatory capture -- this is unnecessary, ineffective, and inefficient. it represents an unenforceable contract with content comapnies at a massive cost to consumers and CE/IT firms.